Looking Into The Future . . .

A Glance at the Past

The future is determined by the past. The experiences in high school with their firm friendships, the great broadening of intellect and common sense will never cease to affect the happiness and usefulness of our lives . . . our future. And neither will the past be forgotten. We shall always remember the fullest years of our lives . . . the high school years. They are set down in this book as a glance at the past. We plan to treasure these years someday and we put them down here for the nostalgia of the "someday." We leave high school with an uncertain look to the future, but with a reasoning glance at the past.

Enter to learn....

Go forth to serve.

In Memoriam

LIBBY FRISZ

1934-1948

Elizabeth Ann (Agnes) Frisz was a friend to all who knew her. She came to Crawfordsville from Waveland. Besides being well-liked by the teachers, Libby was a good student and is well remembered by her many friends at the old College Inn. She met an untimely death in her freshman year and is sadly missed by all who knew her.

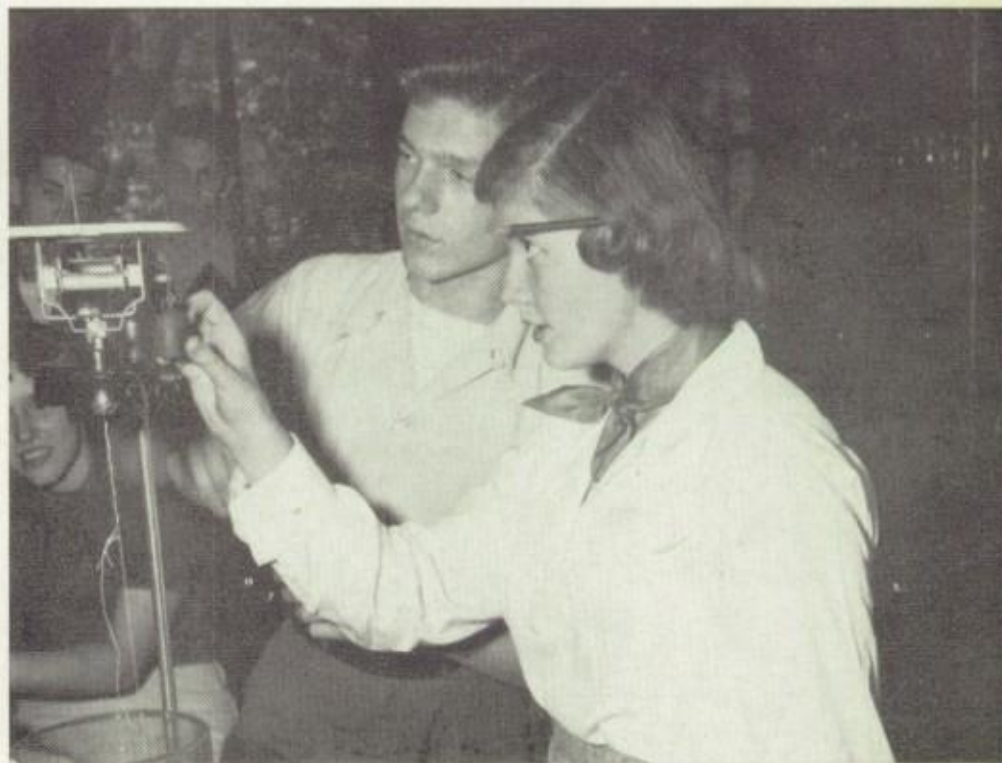

The Center of Our Past

This is a large, dense collage of black and white photographs, likely from a mid-20th-century yearbook. The images are arranged in an overlapping, non-linear fashion. Key scenes include: a group of boys in the top left; a person performing a backflip in the middle left; a person in a graduation cap and gown being congratulated in the center; a baseball player in the top right; a group of students in the middle right; a person in a plaid shirt in the bottom center; and a large group of students in the bottom right. The collage captures a wide range of school life, from athletic achievements to social gatherings and formal events.

Receive Training In Many Fields . . .

Math, one of the strongest departments in the high school, offers a four-year course . . . experience in reasoning, a tool for other courses, preparation for college or a vocation.

. . . Old Traditions With A

The annual Christmas program departed from the totally religious tableau type of program this year to include dancing and light singing. 'Twas a Fred Waring type of program—well-liked.

We never knew what new and interesting art work we would see in the lunchroom each noon. Colorful winter scenes appeared on the walls at Christmas time, two complete shows were brought from New York and other cities. Students showed great interest in the displays, and appreciated this noon-time diversion and cultural boost.

Driver Training—An essential course emphasizing useful technique and good judgment, to produce safe and sane drivers.

An invaluable crew—always busy, ever on hand and ready to help a student or a teacher.

New Approach In 1952

The Senior Play tryouts for "The Man Who Came to Dinner" were the initial step in the trend toward better quality plays. With the direction of Mr. Crecelius, six weeks to work, and a more-than-usually-talented (ahem) class, the presentation of the play was a success. The actors and production staff will always remember the experience of producing a famous and worth-while play.

A Future

The annual Valentine Dance at the Rec Center saw Shirley Todd crowned queen of the frivolous and fascinatingly fanciful festivities.

Kathy Utterback was elected Homecoming Queen by the student body and faculty. The day began with a seven-block parade followed by a pep session. Then Kathy was crowned at the half of the Brazil game. She and her four attendants reigned at the dance afterwards.

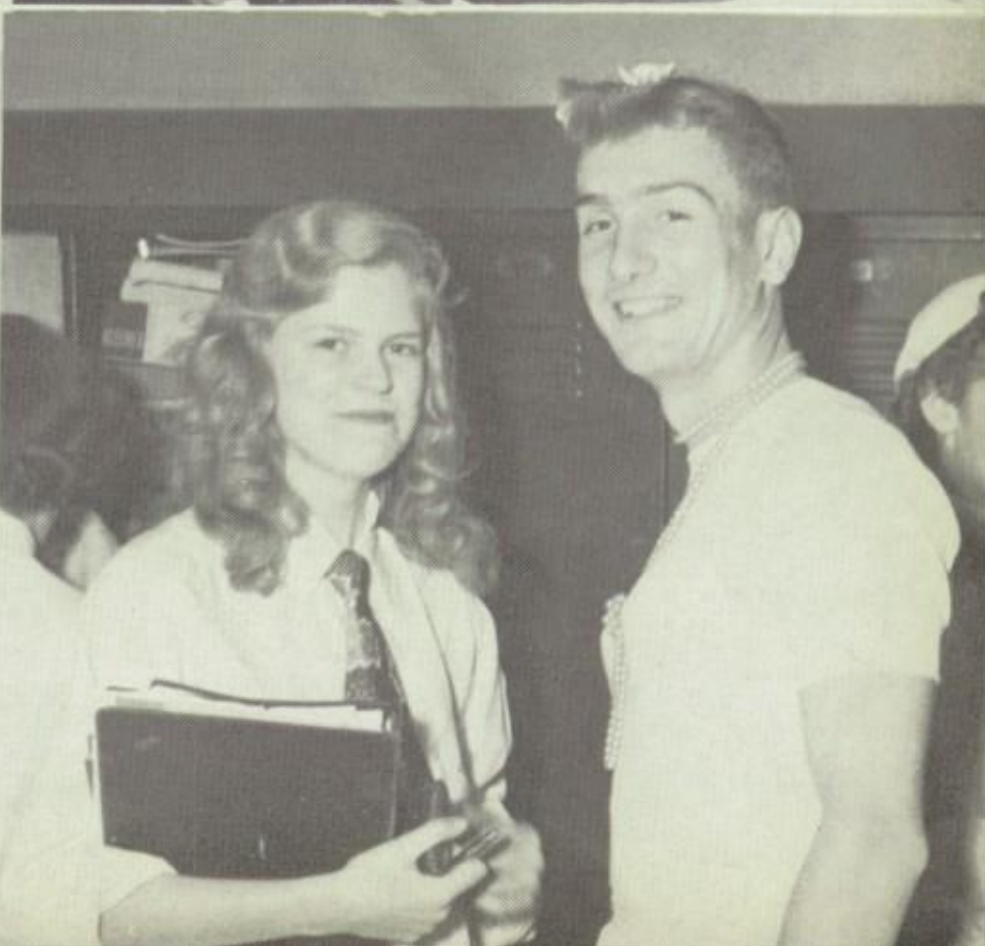

Filled With Happy Memories . . .

"The Mocking Bird" was a well-sung, well-acted, and well-produced operetta that carried on the tradition of fine musical plays at C.H.S.

The girls learn how to prepare for a successful and happy home life.

Another vocational art—a department much-depended-upon by school organizations, a vital training ground for an invaluable trade.

The Seniors' desire for one last fling at the childhood game of "dressing up" gave vent to "Hag Week," topped by all-Senior party with a mock wedding, games, and dancing.

Looking To The Future . . .

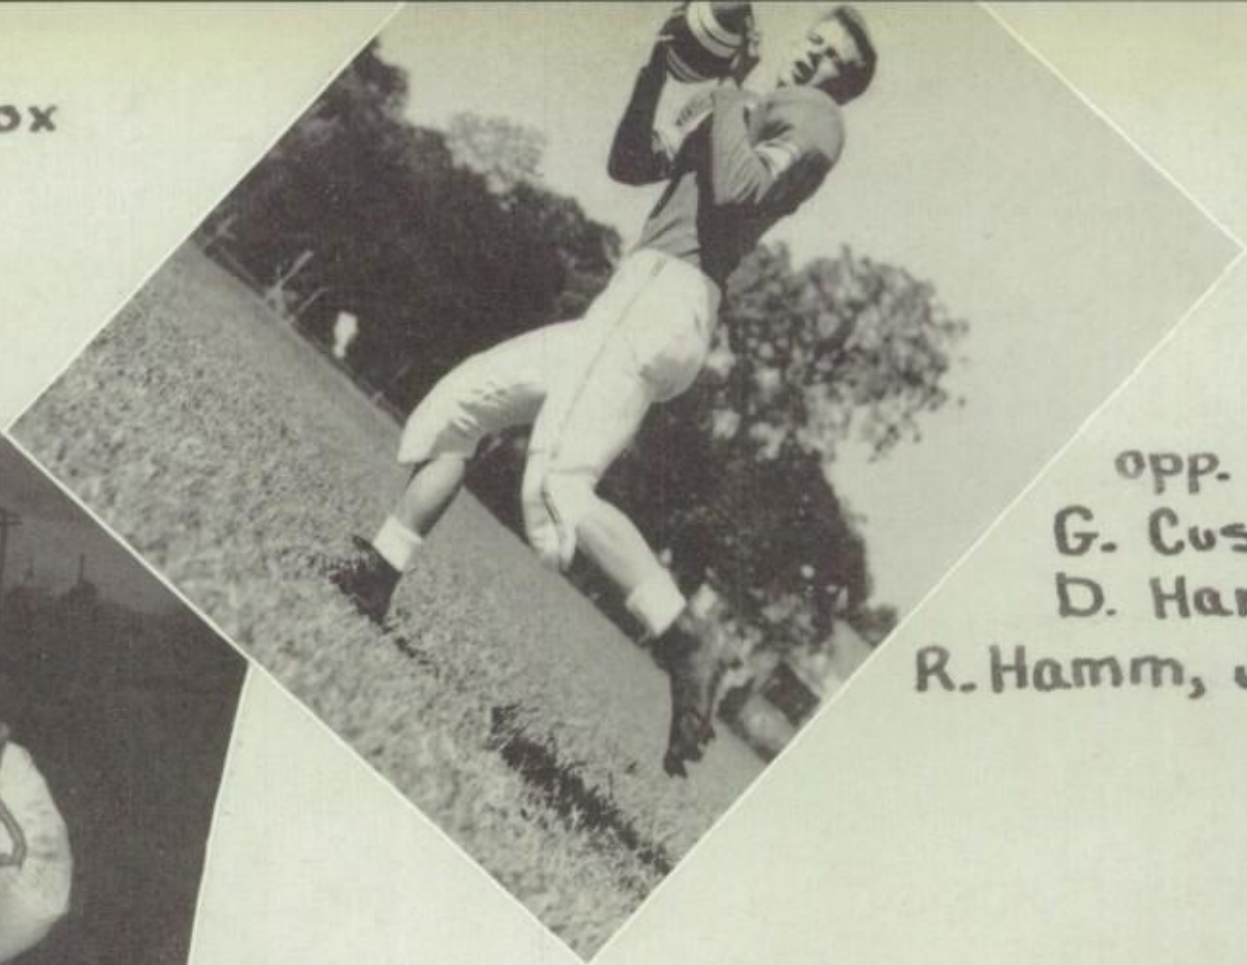

A Glance At The Past With Sports

A glance at the past brings happy memories of many sports victories for C.H.S. . . . the thrill of a quick-paced basketball game, the grim determination that won a hard-fought gridiron battle, the quick eye that meant victory in a tennis match . . . There were defeats, too, but these were in stride. The Athenians will remember the many opportunities provided to learn co-operation, sportsmanship, and co-ordination that will stand them in good stead as they look to the future.

Looking To The Future . . .

A Glance at the Past with Music

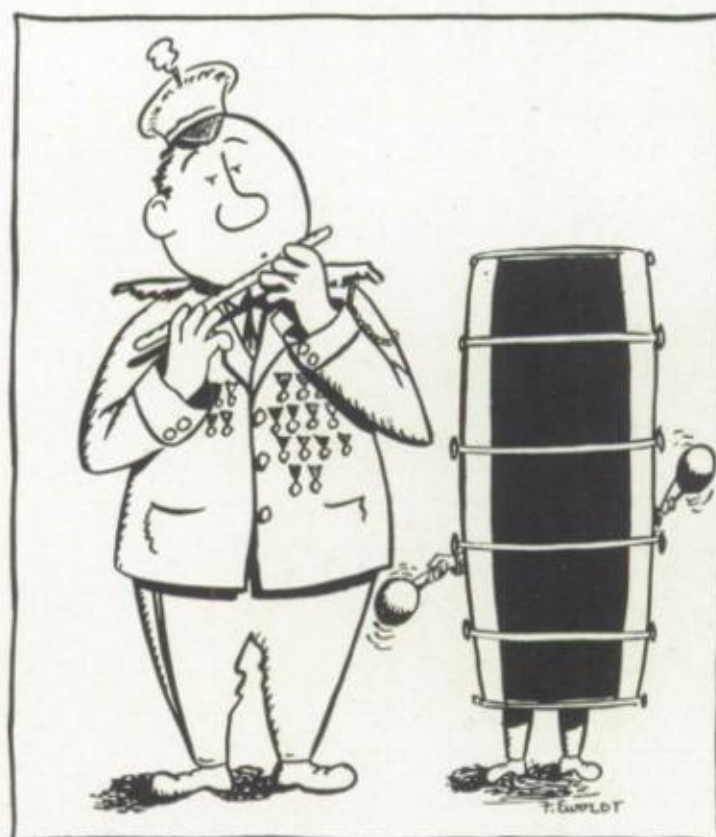

Music has been defined in various ways, but to the music students of Crawfordsville it means looking forward to many hours of enjoyment in the future . . . the assurance of a life of culture and meaning . . . Glancing at the past they recall the many school experiences made more pleasant through music . . . the preparation for a career in case opportunity knocks . . .

"Of all the arts beneath the heaven
That man has found or God has given,
None draws the soul so sweet away,
As music's melting, mystic lay;
Slight emblem of the bliss above,
It soothes the spirit all to love."

—Hogg

SENIOR CHOIR AND CHORUS

Under the able direction of Miss Margaret Canine the Chorus and Choir had a full schedule this year. On October 26 a number of Senior members sang in an all-state choir in Indianapolis. On November 22 an impressive Thanksgiving program was given for the student body. December 20 saw the choir give their interpretations of popular Christmas songs and sacred numbers at a school program and at a night concert. February 9 marked the appearance of several chorus members at Purdue University in a combined chorus. On February 16 the State Solo and Ensemble Contest was held at Greencastle, and on February 23 the all State Solo and Ensemble Contest was held at Butler University.

The Chorus presented the delightful operetta, "The Mocking Bird," on March 14 with a matinee and an evening performance, which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

The Choral Festival was held at Lebanon on April 25. Other schools participating were Greencastle, Lebanon, West Lafayette, Jeff of Lafayette, and Frankfort.

The choir and chorus ended their year of activities by taking part in the annual Baccalaureate exercises, May 25.

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS' AND GIRLS' CHORUS

All year long the Junior High Girls' and Boys' Choruses practiced, sending an ensemble from each grade to the State Solo and Ensemble Contest. The first public appearance of the combined choruses was April 10 at the Easter program given for the student body. They also entertained the student body at a special convocation and ended their activities by giving a Junior High Concert April 29.

SOLOISTS AND ACCOMPANISTS

There are always some students near contest time who are more ambitious than the rest. These are the ones who present solos. This group has to work industriously with their accompanists to make a good showing at the contest.

The accompanist is equally important. Without accompaniment, the solo would sound unfinished. These ambitious classmates, who have helped to make C.H.S. an outstanding school, deserve some special recognition for their efforts.

Looking Into The Future . . .

The class of 1952 will soon be on its way into the future. We glance back on the past year at C.H.S. and remember all our fun, as well as the times we had to stay after school for a conference because we had fun at the wrong times.

In the years following we will want to remember the people with whom we went to class and had our fun. The faces on the succeeding pages will remind us of both the fun and these people during our high school years.

MR. LEE L. EVE

On Mr. Eve's shoulders rest all the responsibilities and problems of running and continually improving the city school system so that it will operate smoothly and efficiently.

Our superintendent came to Crawfordsville High School from Crown Point, Indiana only last year, but his ready smile and understanding approach to all problems have made him a host of friends.

Countless blue slips are checked and sent to teachers all over the building, announcements and bulletins flow from their typewriters, while innumerable queries are answered as part of the daily routine of keeping the school on an even keel.

THE PRINCIPALS

Mr. Louis Darst has finished his third year at Crawfordsville High School with the same boundless energy that has characterized his entire performance here.

Although among the busiest of men, he still finds time to listen to the woes of everyone and lend a helping hand.

As if directing the activities of the Junior High School were not enough, Mr. H. T. McCullough is also Director of Athletics. Yet he handles both assignments in a relaxed manner that is both pleasing and reassuring. When season ticket time rolls around, Mr. McCullough can be found assisting Mr. Reed with the sales and distribution.

A Glance At The Past . . .

With Organizations

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," and Jill, too. Jack and Jill at Crawfordsville need never worry about dullness if they took advantage of some of the many organizations, clubs and activities that make up a vital part of the modern school at C.H.S.

Besides the many and varied courses of study that the student of 1952 could choose from, there was a wealth of extra-curricular activities for every type of interest. Whether a bookworm or a basketball fiend, every member of the student body found his or her niche in some organization.

In doing so, the student of 1952 learned to apply the democratic principles learned in the classroom, adjusted himself to the society of others, and, had a lot of fun doing it.
